“ MY FINAL WORDS

As God welcomed my Mother Adrienne to Heaven and believe me I can asuredly say that with all confidence.

I am not grief stricken nor am I very sad. Because I know she's no longer afraid, confused or in pain.

Honestly, I feel like I lost her a long time ago.

But what often brings me to tears are when I think of the times we've shared. Because she's not here to share them with me any longer. But I will always remember the good times & reminisce about the past.

Adrienne was more than just my mother. She whas my teacher and my friend. She was great example of courage, strength, and commitment. She also taught us compassion and to care for each other. Mom always showed conviction and stood up for the values she believed in whether she was right or wrong.

My parents were not perfect, how could they be they we're still learning. They married very young. My father was 17 And mom was only 16. But they tried. And as my father said they did the best they could.

I will miss you profoundly 😞,

But will always remember You.

“ Your Mom was a beautiful, wonderful friend who I adored. I will cherish all of memories that we made. Remembering meeting every Tuesday at Amvets to play pool with our hubbys and then to just chit chat. Working the fish fries together and all of the preparations it took. The golf outings, we worked side by side. We will miss her dearly. She is finally back together with Don. RIP my good friend!!
