“ Thank you for your leadership and support during my time at Valepark. You made work not feel like work. And I met some pretty great people because you gave me a chance to be a part of your team. I somehow always ended up driving next to you or behind you on our way to work. Running on “ cimino time ;) almost every time. 😂😂 our last conversation we shared was your love for pizza. I’m glad you got to take that lengthy vacation to Europe last year. I hope heaven has a million lemon trees and unlimited pizza waiting for you. You looked very peaceful today. RIH Anthony 🙏

“ My Brother. Even after almost two weeks, the disbelief remains. My mind keeps playing tricks, making me think I can somehow fix this, until the inevitable realization that I can't.

I just saw you a few weeks ago for Thanksgiving. You were the same Anthony. You were happy, full of energy, ... and late to the party. But as always we were so happy to see you and being late didn't matter to us.

You were the person that would be late to their own funeral. Could you please be late to this funeral?

No matter what the event was, everyone could not wait for you to arrive. How many times did we say, "Where's Anthony?", "When is Anthony coming?", "Have you heard from Anthony?", "Call Anthony".

We all knew you would eventually come, but you followed Anthony Time - i.e. when the party was scheduled to start at 3 PM, your arrival could be 3:30 PM, 4:00 PM, who knows PM.

But whenever you did arrive, we were in bliss. You were the life of the party. We don't know what our future family gatherings are going to be like now with you gone.

With us being close to 7 years apart, I think it's fair and natural to say that we didn't have a close childhood. When I was a teenager getting into my own trouble, you were a little boy playing with Matchbox cars. When I was starting my career and starting to get serious about life, you were the teenager.

I'd say it was only when we became "adults" that we started our bonding in earnest. I thought that we would have many years left to continue bonding. I cannot put into words how deeply saddened I am with the fact that our bonding has been cut short - and cut short by a lot.

I have very fond memories of the various trips we had together over the years. We were in Sicily many years ago when we were kids. I was 18 and you were still a little boy. So that trip was a very distant memory for both of us. For years you asked me to go back to see "the motherland". I procrastinated on that. But we finally made that trip last summer. I am so grateful that we made that trip and that I was able to share that experience with you before you left this world.

I will always remember your love for Granita al Limone and how much of it you ate in Sicily. You loved it so much that you bought a baby Meyer lemon tree so that Mom could make granita at home. Now it's a much bigger tree and bearing beautiful lemons. I will take great care of your tree for the rest of my days and think of you whenever I see it.

I will miss you dearly.

“ I loved this young man. I had the pleasure to work with Anthony Cimino for two years at 53rd bank. Last time I saw him was 2015. But we always stayed in touch and we talked every so often on the phone. Anthony was focused, disciplined and cared about being the best. But above all, he was a genuine and happy guy. I loved to see him laugh. I loved to see him shine with pride when he knew that he was making a difference. He was real and he was genuine. You will be missed Cimino!!! I thank God for the time we spent together. May God Bless the Cimino family. May God bless all of those whose lives you touched Cimino. Much Love, Oscar Mazariego

“ Anthony, I want to honour you .

*You are my dear nephew and my godson.
And also a giant with a huge heart.*

You were so brilliant. You were able to read and write when you were four years old. Nobody had taught you. I could not believe my eyes. you were gifted with numbers too and very talented in many sports too.

*Eventhough I live in Belgium, I was lucky to know you well.
We spent many vacations together in Belgium, in America but also in Italy.*

All the wonderful moments spent with you are treasures that I keep preciously in my heart.

And also, You had a big sense of humour. You always made us laugh.

Our last vacations last year in Sicily were incredible. We went back to our roots, to the village where nonno and nonna were born. We met our cousins, we visited Palermo, Trapani, Taormina and Agrigento.

You told me they were the most wonderful vacations you ever had. I am happy you got to do that before going.

Now, I am gonna have to get used to your absence. It s gonna be so difficult. I will miss you every day Anthony. I will never ever forget you.

Rest in peace with nonno and nonna. I imagine you with them, in a prairie full of beautiful flowers and cherry trees, picking up cherries and savouring them, like you used to do.

*See you on the other side Anthony.
I love you for eternity*

“ I was fortunate to work with Anthony at Fifth Third Bank. During our years together at the bank, whether at events, meetings, or lunches, Anthony was always my go-to-guy when I needed help understanding a number. I'll never forget the time Anthony patiently walked me through some reports making sure I understood every detail. His generosity with his time always made a difference. Thank you for the conversations filled with wisdom, guidance, and laughter.

“ I got to know Anthony while I was in college. He was clever, intelligent, and hilarious. Whether it was playing disc golf, writing lyrics, or playing Boggle, he was always fun to be around. My mom loved hearing him tell about all the great Italian food he ate when he was young. I lost touch with him when I moved to Arizona, but asked about him often. I'll miss him a lot, but I'll always remember him fondly. My sympathies go out to The Cimino Family.
