“ Our condolences to the family. We never knew Barbara, but the love and strength that she enabled her son to walk in, is evidence of a wonderful, loving mother. These are the fruits of a life well lived. She undoubtedly will live on in those children, and family members, and we will meet again, in the presence of our King, who holds us in ways that only He can do. Blessings to all the family.

“ I actually met Barbara on line quite a few years ago. Even though we never met in person we became great friends. WE talked on the phone numerous times and exchange birthday cards each year. May she rest in peace now. Her work on this earth is done. Prayers for her family.
