“ Mom,

I will always be your daughter, as is Connie. I always loved you, but I didn't like who you became. I will pray for your soul and ask that you watch over me, Connie, and our loved ones. I hope in heaven you will find peace and happiness.

Love,

Candy (daughter); Tracey (granddaughter); Antonio and Sophia (great-grandchildren); Connie (daughter); Nicole (granddaughter); Cristina (granddaughter)

“ Grandma,

I pray that the Lord welcomes you with open arms into the gates of Heaven and that you will no longer feel pain, sorrow, anger, sickness or sadness. I'm sorry you did not get to share in the joys and accomplishments I've made in my life. You would have been proud. I've been married to a wonderful man, Paul, for over 20 years and have 2 beautiful children, Antonio and Sophia. I graduated top of my class when I earned my Doctor of Pharmacy of Degree 16 years ago, acquired dual board certifications, and even earned another Master's Degree. I remember you attending my National Honor Society ceremonies when I was a kid and you telling me how important school was. Again, I know you would have been proud. I grew up into a strong independent woman who is caring, conscientious and persistent. These characteristics helped me to choose to remember the positive memories I had of us when I was younger. We are promised peace, joy, love and happiness once we are called back home to Jesus. I know once you are in Heaven, the Lord will open your heart so you may see those who were not part of your life as you got older. We will see each other again someday, with new loving spirits, and your other children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren that were not mentioned in your obituary will no longer be forgotten and estranged. May you Rest In Peace.

*Love,
Tracey*
