“ 😭❤️ Billie and her family made my year as an exchange student in Yorkville so special. They made me feel as a part of their family and they still do - 30 years later. Billie has been a very important person in my life and the year I spent with her and her family meant more to me than I think she ever knew. We kept in touch after I moved back to Norway and I visited her many times after. She also came to Norway, with Sheila and Amy. I love and miss her so much ❤️😭 Thank you for all good memories ❤️❤️❤️❤️🙏

“ Mom, I will miss you greatly I always laugh about the day you looked at me and said "OMG, I never thought I'd live long enough to have one of my kids on social security!"
I love all the things you taught me, sewing, crocheting and my love of crafting. It's been painful for me watching you deteriorate over the past few years. Nothing tears at a daughters heart like hearing your mom say she's afraid. You were so strong and invulnerable when you were younger. I am glad you are with your Lord and Saviour and will never be in pain or afraid again. Peace be with you.

“ You know, I always called you "Mom" even though you were really my mother-in-law. I treasure our "old times" together, when we would be quietly discussing some issue while you were knitting away. As you did when volunteering at the Crisis Hotline, you were always there to listen to our problems and concerns. And, to give advice on how to handle or cope with them. You were a giving soul to us and countless others, and probably saved an unknown number of lives in the process. I will miss that person, but you now have a glorious white robe, walk on streets of gold through that Golden City and meet those loved ones who went before you and were waiting for you to get there. With the earthly pains behind you, enjoy your eternity with your Savior and the host of singing angels. I'll see you soon. Love you, Mom !!

“ "Miss Billie" (my second Mom), you will be missed by many of us here on earth but we take comfort knowing we will see you again one day. Say hi to my Mom and Dad, Lucy and Stan, and have a good laugh and share stories like we will be in celebrating your life. I can hear your shorty laugh and feel your motherly hug as I think about you now. I love you very much and you filled a void in my life more than you know. You meant very much to me. Always remembered and in my heart - love you, Pam (Woodworth) Burge 💕
