“ We were at a family BBQ years ago and I was sitting next to Carrie eating. I got up to get something and asked Carrie to save my seat. Carrie told me "I've got this, no worries". On my way back I noticed someone trying to sit in my chair. Immediately, Carrie reached out and pulled my chair next to her and covered the seat with her arms stating, "this seat is saved". Needless to say, I got back and my chair was ready and waiting for me. Every time that image comes to my mind, that sweet act of kindness brings a smile to my face and a chuckle to my heart. I've always appreciated that loyalty and protectiveness Carrie displayed that day. Now just one more request, Carrie. Save me a seat up there in heaven by you. Love, your Illinois cousin, Lisa Palanca
