“ My goodness, from the last you told me you were doing good but that was about a month after you got out of the hospital and we hadn't spoke since then you are definitely going to be missed by very many and by me as well u were always such a fun person to be around and always the life of the crowd and you touched many many people. It's so hard to believe this rest well my dear friend and I'll see you later on in heaven it's not goodbye it's see you later I know you will have God laughing his butt off LOL. God really wanted you he had already tried taking you but humanity wouldn't let you go or maybe he was giving you a chance to see family again and give and feel all the love I don't know all I know is you are very loved and will definitely be missed by many until we meet again my friend
