“ My friend Dawn is gone. She is and will always be a best friend.

Things I remember:

She was relentless about visiting her but would not visit Iowa:).

She didn't eat much and that was okay because I got to eat more

She made me do things I didn't want to do

The bloody Mary's at the Florida house

The Green Room

Carol and Dawn would sleep in the kids room in twin beds with the fan on. I liked my green room. Full sized bed looking over the pond.

Texting you when I had a bad or good day

I know I have more to say, but I remember Dawn saying she would throw me a rake flying over Iowa.

Girlfriend, I'll be on top of the hill with my rake and thinking of you forever.

“ Dawn and I became friends when Spago opened up in Chicago. I had moved from the Bay Area back to the midwest to Chicago. Dawn loved Chicago and wanted to convince me why I would like it too. She kept inviting me to do things which I turned down. She finally gave me the ultimatum, either you accept my final invitation or I will not be your friend. I accepted and we have been friends since:)

“ The joyful image of Dawn and Paula galloping throughout Disney, arm in arm like children will always be a memory I cherish. It was at that moment where I was able to see the deep bond between them. Two grown women loving life at its fullest extent. 🙏❤️

Dawn and I shared the same birthday. We spent many birthdays together when we were in elementary school. That is something that I will always treasure about our friendship.
