“ Where do I begin. We liked each other the first time we were introduced. Our daughters were friends. I had just started beautician school. She had been there and done that. We found that we liked a lot of the same things. The first crafts we did together were reindeer's for outside . We burned up two saws and sanders. We still laughed about that. We made home made ornaments for our kids and family members. We vacationed together in Wisconsin together. Our grand kids we shared. Diane and I were more like sisters that just good friends. We still stayed close even after moving away from each other. It was great to visit on vacation. When we built on the lake in Jacksonville she loved to come there. We loved to shop together and craft time was always a hoot. I remember trying to show her how to paint a bird. It was suppose to be small but when she got done it was huge. So we laughed and called it big bird. Making apple butter and apple pie together was always fun. I could go on and on of the things we did. I'm so glad we had our xmas exchange this year. I made her my home made pizza . It was her favorite. We all have our memories now and I'm thankful for them. She will be so missed but never forgotten. I know she was greeted with open arms for she had loved ones waiting for her. Until we meet again my sister by choice I will never forget you and all the fun things we did together. I love you and will miss you forever.
