“ I keep trying to share my memories of you Dad...and every time I start I'm at a loss because there are no words to explain how much I love you and how many memories I have...so for now I will keep my memories for me and use them to try to heal my heart...it is absolutely shattered right now and not ready to say goodbye...I will never be ready for goodbye...but I promise that I will always share my memories with Timber...she is so lost and confused right now...she misses her Papa so...it breaks all of our hearts to see her get so excited when she goes home and sees your car and she yells Papas home and runs in looking for you...but I truly believe you see her because I believe you will watch over her and continue to play with her and dance with her and cuddle her when she is sad...I love you Dad...and I will forever be thankful for all of your unconditional love and for everything you have done for me...I will try my best to take care of Mom for you...I know how much you loved her and how much you worried about her...nothing will ever be the same without you...I miss you so...today I will somehow say goodbye to your body but I will never say goodbye to the memories I keep in my mind or the love that I keep in my heart...thank you for being my Dad ❤️❤️❤️
