“ My name is Jason, you don't know me but I would like to share my deepest condolences to the parents and the family. I'm a 40 year old single father with a 12 year old son. My son is my life and could never imagine the pain you are suffering. The reason I am writing you is Friday morning I lost my Mother Kathy after an amazing week of taking care of her in her home on hospice. My parents were married for 45 years and blessed with 3 boys. My mom is at Burns right now with your sweet Emri. My mom always wanted a daughter, I can assure you my mom is taking good care of Emri just like she would me and my brothers and her 3 grandchildren. When my mom was going to chemo for a year her passion was watching family's on YouTube with sick baby's and children and following their journey. My mom would call me and tell me about these children and send me links of movies. I hope you can find comfort in knowing your sweet Emri has a friend in Heaven and the most loving caring mother you could ask for right next to Emri watching out for her.

God Bless You All,

Jason Morton
