“ I was so sorry to hear that Frank passed away. He was a wonderful man. He was so heartbroken without his wife, He is surely happy and with her now.

“ My condolences to the Frank Lucas family.

It was in the early 1960's I decided to venture into the real estate market. Frank was open in showing me some of the ropes in this adventure. Now mind you I was already working at US Steel in the Sheet Products Division. But I was most interested in seeing if I could make an extra buck to help out the circumstances. Being my brother-in-law Frank was most willing to let me follow around and see the techniques used to building a trust worthy relationship that the seller would feel comfortable in signing a contract. The time arrived where Frank, being a licensed airplane pilot flew a couple us to Indianapolis and after testing for the real estate test returned the next day to fly us home. On April 14, 1967 I received my license as a real estate salesman. This generosity and friendship he displayed is set in stone in my memory of Frank and to this day I carry my heavy heart in his remembrance.
