“ Growing up in Gary on the East Side, I went to St. Luke's School with Jim. We became very good Friends and I spent a lot of time at their home. We both came from large Families and I got to know his parents and siblings well- they were all exceptional people. Although we went to separate high schools, After I got out of the service, Jim and I re-connected at Indiana State University, where he earned the nickname "Doc". While at ISU, we spent more than a few hours at a tavern called the "Ballyhoo", and had some great laughs. It was great to see him again.

Jim was truly a special person and a real "Class Act", whom I will remember always. I wanted to share my condolences with his Family and he will be in my prayers.
