“ To honor my friend Jan in just a few paragraphs feels impossible. But I hope to convey even a fraction of what she meant to me and all who had the privilege of knowing her.

We lived in the same neighborhood during high school and met while walking to school. We became fast friends and navigated the excitement, disappointments, and uncertainties of teenage life. We shared our interest in music, clothes, the outdoors, and boys. I was the shy one, and Jan, with her vibrant, wild, and fearless spirit brought me out of my shell. We laughed endlessly, talked about everything under the sun, and simply enjoyed life growing up in South Florida.

After high school, Jan embarked on an incredible journey, joining the Air Force and serving for 20 years. Her adventures took her across the US, living in Florida, Arizona, Alaska to Montana, to North Dakota, Ohio, and overseas to Okinawa. Despite the miles that separated us, our friendship never wavered. We kept in touch through letters, occasional visits, and later, calls filled with laughter and updates about our families.

When Jan retired from the Air Force, she didn't slow down. Instead, she pursued her lifelong dream of becoming a teacher – and she did love teaching, and was always striving to learn. Raising her two daughters, mostly on her own, Jan balanced motherhood, studies, and a career all in stride. She built a home filled with love for her daughters, Jennifer and Jackie, who were the light of her life.

Jan was more than just a friend, she was a constant presence in my life. She was generous, always trying to find the perfect gift, and thoughtful, always checking in to see how my family was doing. Through every milestone, every joy, and even every sorrow, Jan and I shared our lives. We laughed more than I can ever remember, cried and leaned on each other when times were tough, and celebrated each other's triumphs.

I am endlessly grateful for the years we shared, the memories we created, and the love that will forever live in my heart. Goodbye Jan, you will be missed more than words can express, but your spirit, laughter, and love will remain with us always.
