“ Today was a sad day I will never forget. In the blink of a eye you were gone. I thought of how good you were to me and encouraged me to move on. When I had bad days you made me laugh. Never did you forget a holiday birthday or any other occasion. I remembered when I worked and you would bring me lunch. All the seminars and how proud you would be to take me. You would tell me “You could do anything mom if you set your mind.” He would tell me I hung around with the wrong people. He wondered why I worked so much and I would tell him I would like to leave everyone a little something and he would reply “Mom you don’t owe anything to us” I can’t tell you how much I miss you.
