“ Aunt Marge, I miss you every day. I was thinking about you today and stumbled upon this page, I don't know how I didn't know it existed but I wish you were still here with us, as do others. I wish I could've gotten more time with you, but thank you so much for everything you've ever done for me. From taking me to college classes, letting me drive you around when I was trying to get my license and for always being there for me when I was sad. I miss doing your hair and makeup and coming over to see you and the dogs. I'm just so glad you're not suffering anymore but dang it's been a long time. I'd give anything to go camping one last time and for my mom to have her best friend back. Until we meet again, thanks for being a wonderful woman.

“ Today is going to be such a hard one, saying goodbye to your physical being I know will not be the end of your presence in our lives! I already feel your spirit watching over us! I admire your strength, quick wit, sense of humor, your beautiful singing and loving spirit! Until we meet again Mom I will hold you very close to my heart your sons and your grandbabies! Thanks for blessing this world with them all!

“ What an amazing woman. I hope when my life has come to an end people can at least say half of the good things that people have said about Aunt Marge. She truly was one of a kind. So sweet, loving and caring. Always had good things to say and so positive. I'm so thankful for all the times with her over the years and being able to get to know her a little bit. She fought hard for so long, as sad as it is and as much as she will be missed , I can only imagine her perfect peace now.
I'm praying for the entire family now and in the days ahead. Much love and strength to all of you. 💜

“ Aunt Marge is and always will be my hero! She was the strongest person I know. Fought her cancer with such Grace. Was always so optimistic about her health. I Remember she and my mother and son and I had stayed the night with her. She said she's too mean to die hell couldn't handle her and the Lord want ready to take her. I know she is in heaven cancer free. Free from pain. Has her long beautiful hair back that she loved! She is free. And will be missed by so many. I love you more than words can describe. Love always
Dizzy

“ Marge was a wonderful woman who loved her family very much. They have always been her first priority. Throughout the years she sacrificed much for her family happiness. These past few years she suffered so very much and she persevered through it all. I saw the indomitable Lowe family spirit shining on as ever through Marg's loving compassion. Professionally she represented and exemplified the nursing credo very well. As I search the memories of my youth, I realize I saw much of her mother in her. Marg's kindness and compassion, so much like her mother - even more so. My thoughts are with her children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, sisters, brothers, and friends.

“ I'm at a total loss for words. I feel like she was the true matriarch of our family... I don't know that I'll ever meet a more determined woman in my life. Whether it was raising four children alone, or deciding to go to school to become a nurse, or the years spent putting up the most incredible fight that most couldn't imagine; she believed she could conquer anything. We'll miss you terribly, but will never forget your strength and compassion. I love you, Aunt Marge... May you finally know peace.

I have reminded myself for years, that my Aunt was given this life because no one else was strong to live it, but her. There arent enough words to express our loss. However i hope we can all find peace in know we lost our earthly angel but gained a heavenly Angel. Shes been a rock and a solid pillar of strength thank you so much for showing us what strength, determination, and true compassion is. My heart will forever ache for you. I love you always and forever -Til we meet again sweet angel
