“ I've been reminiscing about living in Terre Haute and have wondered for years what had happened to Marshall; what his life had been like. I'm so sorry to hear of his passing. Marshall lived a couple of doors down from my house in Deerfield. I moved to St. Louis from Deerfield when I was 7 and Marshall must have been about 6. He was my best friend in those days. I'll never forget his running home after playing at my house, jumping up in the air and proclaiming that he was "wonder dog". Or when he was at my house with another friend from the neighborhood who proceeded to cut off most of his eyelashes. so many great memories. I wish we could have caught up sooner. rest in peace my old friend.

“ I just found out here on Thanksgiving Day. I am so numb right now from this. He was the bass player in our band, Kamera. Prior to that we literally grew up with music together back in our late teens. In and out of various incarnations of bands we were in together. He had come over earlier this year as we jammed together in my new home studio I built and he was so excited to have come by. We only lived 3-4 blocks away from one another. I knew of his health but the last text I got from him was April 5th. I was trying to get a hold of him about 3 weeks ago, decided to do a search on the web here, and well, I saw this?..... I am so thankful to have had such a great great friend in my life, to enjoy his musicality in so many ways, to the days of first meeting him with his then roommate and drummer, CJ. Wow I just went way back....lol My condolences to his entire family and friends. As I sit here staring at this screen, trying to make sense of this, I'll miss you my friend. May you be at piece. Hope you're rocking out in Heaven.....

“ I'll never forget the laughs we had back in the day. You were always so kind and funny and easy to talk to. You are one of the best people I've ever met and will never forget. Man this is a cruel world. It's been about 6 or 7 years since we seen each other at the gas station and talked for an hour. I remember it like it was an hour ago. You made sense to me in every word you spoke. You were so talented and caring. I wish I had one more chance to say goodbye my old friend. Rest in Paradise.

“ One of the funniest is the story of "Bitch Pup" you will have to ask me in person. I have so many great memories it would take a week to type them. We have been to many crazy bars together (Interior, SD) being one of them. We went hiking during a hurricane in the Smokies, there was over 4 feet of snow at elevation on Halloween as I recall. Another was on Crane lake Minn. It was our last night on the house boat. Marshall and I were on the top deck watching the most beautiful sunset. I told him to remember this moment forever. When we go home tomorrow and things get tough we can always go back here in our minds and things will be just fine. Come on everyone let's go to the houseboat.
