“ I'd like to offer this poem by Thomas Hardy as a way of reflecting on the love and care Uncle Nick and Aunt Slavka gave to each other down their many years together.

She, To Him (part 1)

*When you shall see me lined by tool of Time,
My lauded beauties carried off from me,
My eyes no longer stars as in their prime,
My name forgot of Maiden Fair and Free;*

*When in your being heart concedes to mind,
And judgment, though you scarce its process know,
Recalls the excellencies I once enshrined,
And you are irked that they have withered so:*

*Remembering mine the loss is, not the blame,
That Sportsman Time but rears his brood to kill,
Knowing me in my soul the very same—
One who would die to spare you touch of ill!—
Will you not grant to old affection's claim
The hand of friendship down Life's sunless hill?*

“ My condolences to the family. Nick lived catty corner from me. Nick was my favorite neighbor. We would talk for hours standing in each other's yard or the garage or back by my garden. I would give Nick produce from the garden and he would bring me pierogies. It was an excellent trade-off. I can't tell you how much I'm going to miss this man! Love-Ya-Nick!

“ Gerri, Ray, Linda, grandchildren, so sorry for your loss. A quote from Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross: "The reality is that you will grieve forever. You will not "get over" the loss of a loved one; you will learn to live with it. You will heal and you will rebuild yourself around the loss you have suffered. You will be whole again but you will never be the same. Nor should you be the same nor would you want to."
