“ There are so many things I could say my memories of Ron when we were growing up in Posen, but the most vivid one I have is the trip we took to Biloxi Mississippi when we were barely eighteen. My dad had just bought me an old 1957 ford and warned us not to go on a long trip but we didn't pay attention. Fifty miles outside of Biloxi the timing chain went out and we couldn't stop until we got to our destination. Ran Red lights, ran stop signs, don't know how we didn't get arrested. My dad told me not to call him if we had car trouble so we didn't. We figured out a way to fix the car and had an amazing weeks vacation, which included some skinny dipping and running the car through a corn field at an not so safe speed. I will never forget the adventures we had together. Even though we went down different paths I always will remember him as a brother.
