“ I remember how much Scott loved for me to bring my dog, Suzie, over for a visit. I knew deep down he had a love for dogs. He also took great pride in his home and knew how hard he tried to keep up the outside in tip-top shape even though he could not see that well. I recall seeing him outside feeling the shape of the shrubs to see if they needed attention. He was a very proud man. May he now rest in peace. My deepest sympathy to Carol and Holly and hoping your memories will be of the good times you shared with him. Sincerely,
Alice Galvin
