“ So, I never got to officially meet Shirley. I'd hear stories with a proud smile from her granddaughter Morgan, who I worked with for 7 years and came to be friends.

I met Shirley for the first time when she was in the hospital. Helping family to get some rest, I stayed overnight with her for several nights to keep her company. It's a memory I'll never forget. She was definitely a sparky little lady! We had some giggles and some moments.....lol.

But my favorite was on the last night there, at one point we were both quiet, and I reached over the bed rail to hold her hand (with those pretty red nails that Morgan gave her 😊). We both smiled at each other as she squeezed my hand gently.

The hold lasted for awhile until the nurse came in.

For what it's worth, holding her hand meant the world to me. In such short time, I had come to adore her!

I wish I had known Shirley before. But I'll take what I had.

Though it was during a difficult time for Shirley and her family, I Thank You for bringing me into her life unknowingly for her final days.

I Love You Shirley..... hope you remember me when we meet again someday.

My deepest sympathy to Morgan, Andrea and family. Please know my heart is saddened by your sudden loss. I believe you had a wonderful Grandma and Mom in your life!

“ Great memories I share with my Aunt Shirley are all her summer visits to Florida!! My family always looked forward for the month of July to arrive so we can all go hang out at our favorite spot the Hawaii Inn pool deck with our favorite bartender Dave. You will be so dearly missed Aunt Squirley as my children would call her 🙏💔😭
