“ Tim and I were college roommates the first two semesters away from home for both of us Midwestern boys. So many memories, some I can share, some should probably just go with Tim. Tim could brighten a room with his laugh and robust, bigger than life charisma. Our time together was at a time in our lives and a time in history that provided the perfect storm for fun loving guys that got into our fair share of mischief. We would share those stories as we aged, but we never had to embellish. I will miss those conversations as no one but Tim knew and experienced them in order to share. Tim didn't live in the past, but was not afraid to bring that laughter to the party. I will miss him as a part of me has left.

“ I knew Tim through his marriage to Amy. For over a decade, it was a joy watching this couple grow together as they traveled the world from one adventure to another be it scuba diving, snow boarding, flying, spiritual discovery, building a life in California, or playing with grandchildren. One of Tim's biggest dreams was to fly and to own his own plane. Together he and Amy made that dream come true.

The last few years were extremely difficult as they dealt together with Tim's unexplainable health issues. Once diagnosed with GBM, Tim fought to keep a positive outlook and continued for as long as he could. However, GBM is a terrible disease affecting every aspect of a person's life more often than not with surprising fallout. I am relieved that Tim is now out of pain and at peace.

My deepest condolences to his wife Amy and to all of Tim's family and friends. He was too young.

“ Most of you don't know me but I am a fellow pilot an airplane owner and good friend of Tim.

I have Known Tim since he first came to Chino Airport 5 to 6 years ago. I probably know more about Tim's 182 and his hanger more than anyone else. Tim was a superb pilot, even after his diagnosis we would go flying just to get away from it all. As he would not go flying without another pilot a board so I could continue flying if he was unable to.

I am so proud to have known Tim and flown with him, The aviation community here at Chino airport of suffered a great loss.

Tim's pilot name was Aquaman because every time we went out to eat he would always have a couple of large glasses of ice water. I have some photos that none of you probably have, if you would like a copy of those photos or have any questions you can contact me at nesbitaviation@yahoo.com

*With great great sorrow I post this

“ Tim is now with his maker. God has taken him from us to a much happier place, pain free and full of love. We're sad but I know he is happy. How thrilling it was to see Tim accept Jesus in his life, to witness his baptism. He's an angel now. I'll miss his big hugs and radiant smile. Rest In Peace my friend. We will see each other again someday.

“ So sorry for your loss. I've known Tim for 25 years. He was truly a loving caring person who always saw the good side of life and shared that philosophy with those whom he called friend. Although he left this world too early he left a lasting impression on mine.
