“ I lived two doors away from Wayne for 17 years. He was a great guy and helpful neighbor. He sure knew how to tell a good story! I'm so deeply saddened to learn of his passing. Prayers of peace and comfort for Laura and his family.

“ My first memory of Wayne was when my mom and I went to visit Aunt Shirley at this little house in Miller. There was this boy building a model of some monster. I guess the model did not look good. Wayne was adding a wall built from toothpicks. Although I was not a part of his family they let me share his Aunt Shirley and even his Grandma Brown. Wayne and his family were always welcoming and when I got to know him as an adult Wayne had been changed by life. One of my regrets is that I had not spent more time with him. Thank you, Wayne, for being such a kind and loving human being.

“ My sincere sympathies on your loss. It's really all our loss, because like everyone says, he was such a great guy to know. I sure won't forget his vivid intelligence and quick humor. He knew how to keep a person on their toes in conversation! His original artwork will remain memorable, especially that depiction of the Beatles crossing Lake Street. What a cool guy to think of that! Last but not least, I'll never forget how he and Kenny Sandine simply volunteered to assist my sister and I in packing a huge moving van of furniture in 2015---- providing not only muscle, but the necessary equipment to ease the job for us. I'll miss seeing him in Miller, but know that he rests in peace with a "Well Done, My Humble Servant" up in heaven.
